

TELL SALESFORCE: DROP THE CBP CONTRACT

Salesforce powers the Unified Immigration Portal, which enables information sharing between ICE, CBP (Customs Border Protection), and other enforcement agencies. The system uses AI to facilitate the detentions and deportations tearing our communities apart. This contract is worth less than 0.1% of Salesforce's annual revenue and dropping it will not impact Salesforce's bottom line.

Tell Salesforce: Drop the CBP contract.

No tech for state violence.

HERE'S WHAT YOU CAN DO

Salesforce Employees: Talk to your leaders and email Suzanne DiBianca, Executive Vice President & Chief Impact Officer: "No tech for state violence. Drop the CBP Contract." Then share this flyer with your team, tape it to the fridge, slack it, make some noise!

Salesforce Users: Reach out to your Salesforce contact and tell them to drop CBP or risk losing your business. Find template emails at snatchforce.tech

Brandon Gonzalez

Brandon is a 25-year-old from Arizona who has lived in the U.S. since he was one year old. He loves guitar, soccer, and wrestling. On July 14, 2025, Scottsdale police pulled Brandon over for an expired license plate on a borrowed car, then transferred him to ICE custody. After months of degrading treatment, he voluntarily departed to Mexico on September 12, 2025.
