

TELL SALESFORCE: DROP THE CBP CONTRACT

Salesforce powers the Unified Immigration Portal, which enables information sharing between ICE, CBP (Customs Border Protection), and other enforcement agencies. The system uses AI to facilitate the detentions and deportations tearing our communities apart. This contract is worth less than 0.1% of Salesforce's annual revenue and dropping it will not impact Salesforce's bottom line.

Tell Salesforce: Drop the CBP contract.

No tech for state violence.

*Visit snatchforce.tech

HERE'S WHAT YOU CAN DO

Salesforce Employees: Talk to your leaders and email Suzanne DiBianca, Executive Vice President & Chief Impact Officer: "No tech for state violence. Drop the CBP Contract." Then share this flyer with your team, tape it to the fridge, slack it, make some noise!

Salesforce Users: Reach out to your Salesforce contact and tell them to drop CBP or risk losing your business. Find template emails at snatchforce.tech from our community

MISSING

ABDUCTED USING SALESFORCE TECH

Tae Heung "Will" Kim

Will is a 40-year-old PhD candidate at Texas A&M University researching a Lyme disease vaccine. Will is a lawful permanent resident and green card holder who has lived in the U.S. for 35 years since arriving at age five. On July 21, after returning from his brother's wedding in South Korea, authorities detained Will at SFO for over a week, then transferred him to Arizona.